Micah 6:8 tells us that the Lord requires us to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with our God. In order to do this, we must understand justice, mercy, and, most of all, our God. In understanding God, we can learn what is just and what is merciful. It is often my prayer that we focus not on what humans say is law, as they often change. I am reminded of the words of Martin Luther

Unless I am refuted and convicted by testimonies of the Scriptures or by clear arguments (since I believe neither the Pope nor councils alone; it being evident that they have often erred and contradicted themselves), I am conquered by the Holy Scriptures quoted by me, and my conscience is bound to the Word of God: I cannot and I will not recant anything, since it is unsafe and dangerous to do anything against the conscience. Here I stand. I cannot do otherwise. God help me. Amen!

And I think that should be the standard to which we continually strive.
